T. No. 9: Teachers' Training College, Harigaon

Smt. P. M. Jena
Designation - Asst. Prof.   Dt. 27/09/2021
Sub. - CC. 16 (Gender, School & Society)
Course - B. Ed (First year, session - 2020-22)
E. Content - "Land themes from Social reform movement"

A social movement is a collective effort to bring about a new system in some field of life. It is born from the dissatisfaction that emerges from the prevalent situation and it is born from the expectation of a new social system taking it's place. A movement is about social change. A social movement may lead to or inspire a revolution. A social movement is generally inspired by relieving people or it's members from some evil of other specific goals. There movements include in them only certain classes of the society and their influence can be been on certain sections of the society and generally their consequences is the manifestation of change.

In India, women's movements started in the nineteenth century as a social reform movement. When the western concepts of freedom, equality and brotherhood started to spread in the elite classes through the English language. The women tried to go against the patriarchal system of the society by enhance in the Bhakti movement. Women movements in India can be classified in to three waves.

PTO

Social Reform movement

Development in "Raja Ram mohan Ray"

Reform of women's education

- Ishwar Chandra Vidyasagar
- Justice Mahadev Govind Ranade
- Maharshi Karve
- Swami Dayananda Saraskedi
- Swami Vivekananda
- Ram Krishna Mission
- Arya Samaj
- The Gujrat Vernacular Society
- All India Women's Conference
- Sharada Sadan
- Seva Sadan

2021/4/27 12:43

The first wave during the nineteenth century and the freedom movement and by middled of the twentieth century, women took acti... part in the freedom movement. By the end o... 1960's we can see paradigm jump I'm politico... activism and it can be seen as the second w... By the end of 1970's, the third wave was... created whose focal point was women empower...

(1) Pre-independence Women's movement
(The first wave)

→ Social Reform movement

(2) Post-independence Women's movement
(The Second wave)

(3) Contemporary women's movement in India
(The third wave)

27/04/2021